

Perfect slices

Our map of Milan's best pizza spots, as chosen by the city's design greats, will leave you hungry for more

ART DIRECTION: OLMO R ROCES ARTWORK: ALBY BAILEY WRITER: ROSA BERTOLI

Our obsession with Milanese pizza spots started during Salone del Mobile last year, while looking for a recommendation for a quick bite. So we asked around, and realised the city's design community is extremely opinionated on pizza: in a matter of hours, we had several suggestions, from thin crust to Neapolitan-style, from gourmet toppings to casual neighbourhood joints. This year, we decided to gather our Milanese friends' tips into a map of Milan's most desirable pizza spots, so that we won't be caught unprepared when hunger strikes. Creative directors, designers, curators and more jumped at the opportunity to share pizza tips (some sharing multiple suggestions), and the results are dotted on this map, so that wherever we are in Milan, we can be sure to get our fix. Putting this map together has given us a fascinating insight into our friends' ways with pizza. The Milanese's favourite? Undoubtedly, the Margherita, a classic often served with a twist – whether it's Piero Lissoni or Patricia Urquiola's buffalo mozzarella topping, or Alberto Biagetti's ricotta-filled crust. Head to Wallpaper.com to see what else they are ordering, and what makes these pizzerias special to them.
