19 Handmade (right down to its individual springs) in Sedilia's London workshop, 'Pylon' takes notes from the simple shapes found in ancient-Egyptian architecture, with an interlocking blocky design that tapers up from its wide feet. £18,066 (sedilia.com).

22 Made in Italy, the welcoming 'Ibisco' sofa marries craftsmanship with unparalleled comfort and support. It's a notable departure from Dolce & Gabbana Casa's signature colour and pattern. From £14,760 (dolcegabbana.com).

20 If it's adjustability you're after, Italian designer Stefano Spessotto's 'Pandora' for Calligaris is hard to beat. The headrest can be set to seven different positions, while the pull-out seat affords extra living-room loungin'. From £4,063 (calligaris.com).

23 Smartly designed to incorporate a table in its middle and a side table along its arms, 'Lorentz' by David Lopez Quincoces meets all your living-room-furniture needs, as it can be tailored to suit your space. Approx £20,490 (livingdivani.it).

21 Nine modules form the three-seater sofa 'Notturmo a New York', which Gaetano Pesce designed as a tribute to his adopted hometown – released by Cassina as a limited-edition run of just 50. £30,825 (cassina.com).

24 Longtime Edra collaborator Francesco Binfaré's 'Standway' sofa has all the hallmarks of a standout design, and fuses the classic with the contemporary. Ideal for long evenings or lazy afternoons spent sprawling. From approx £21,650 (edra.com). ➤

13 Patricia Urquiola's design for 'Gruuve' – an extension to her armchair that was an early nod to the modern love for 1970s forms – adds dynamism to any living room, thanks to its continuous lines and rounded edges. From approx £7,520 (moroso.it).

16 Created for modern-day living, in which the TV is no longer the focus and working from the sofa is acceptable, the 'DS-909 Flow' by Yonoh Creative Studio allows the backrests to be positioned for a bespoke setup. From approx £26,020 (desede.ch).

14 Trust rebellious brand Sancal to release one of the most playful sofas of the year. For 'Canto', it enlisted quirky Valencian studio Mut Design to create a modular system that is billed as 'a lesson in geometry'. From £3,780 (sancal.com).

17 Etro Home Interiors' 'Quiltana' collection is inspired by capitonné – the French term for buttoned-upholstery stuffing. Defined by square quilting, the sofa comes in a range of fabrics. Approx £9,120 (etrohomeinteriors.onirogroup.it).

15 As its name suggests, Philippe Bouix's modular 'Conversation' sofa for Roche Bobois is intended to prompt discussion and interaction between sitters – consider it an easier-to-achieve version of the conversation pit. £5,890 (roche-bobois.com).

18 Comfort is central to King Living's new 'Haven'. Each part – from armrests to backrests – can be adjusted, while you can change the orientation or add modules to create a lounging space to fill even the biggest room. From £2,690 (kingliving.co.uk).
